

Ty Booth

As I, Ty Booth, get ready for our spectacular trip I would personally like you to know who I am. I am a muscular 19 year old, with jet-black hair, dark skin, green eyes, and elegantly made pants and shirt. I am from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. As a successful farmer I have made good money for the Ty family. I have a big role as part of the family. (My role is providing money for our family.) Our mom, dad and grandmother had passed away sadly last year of pneumonia. My grandpa will be riding in the wagon on our journey too. I have learned how to hunt for food, but it is not one of my strengths. This will be my first big journey so I am quite scared. My personality is a little bit mean, but only if it is necessary. Other than that I'm a nice young fella. I one day hope to be the president of the United States. One of my aspirations is George Washington for his great leadership. A dream I one day wish to accomplish is being famous. So let me tell you about who is with me on this journey. My father Erin has raised me quite well and had given me a decent education when I was younger. Erin works as a tailor and had become quite successful. Though Erin is a tough man, he still treats me like a true son. Jake, a 16 year old child, is also with me on the wagon. I am his cousin, but I treat him like a father, so ever since his father had died it was my job to act like a father and treat him like a son. Jake is a well mannered 16 year old and I respect that. Sarah Booth is riding on the wagon with me also. As her cousin, I am supposed to be nice and respect her decisions. The last person on the wagon is also one of my cousins. Her name is Susan Booth. Susan has made decent cash from music making. Though many people like her music, I personally do not. Still Susan is a nice cousin and that is a good thing.

If we make it to Oregon, I need to decide what I am going to do there. Men have been telling me about all the land Oregon possesses! Not only this, but the government is giving any lad who moves here as much land as you'd like! The indians and traders I hear are willing to buy my crops and food for a very good price!!! I will be very rich and my uncle Erin will be so proud of me!!! I hope Erin my father, can expand his tailor business. I hope my cousins will find Oregon a nice place and enjoy it. Oregon has so much hope, this will be a dream for me!!!

Dedication and forward: I dedicate this beloved piece of writing to my number 2 friend in the world my teddy bear I sleep with every night!!!!!!!
